PUC FINES SAN JOSE MOVING COMPANY SAFARI MOVING AND STORAGE FOR OPERATING WITHOUT A VALID PERMIT

The California Public Utilities Commission's (PUC) Consumer Protection and Safety Division has fined moving company, Cono Corp., doing business as Safari Moving and Storage, $1,000 after an investigation of its operations and practices disclosed numerous violations of the Public Utilities Code and Commission rules and regulations.

An administrative citation was issued to Sigalit Turgeman, president of Cono Corp., alleging that the corporation:

- Operated for approximately a two-month period without a valid household goods carrier permit in force;
- Operated for approximately a two-month period without public liability and property damage, cargo, and workers' compensation insurance coverage;
- Engaged unlicensed sub-haulers or sub-sub-haulers.
